Tribesman 2002

To Students, Faculty, and Administration,

Among the many changes at Mississippi College during this 2001-2002 academic year, all students, faculty, staff, administration, and alumni are Standing Strong. Due to the tragic events of September 11 and the start of the war against terrorism, it is imperative that everyone in the United States be united and remain strong. On a much smaller scale, Mississippi College is dealing with its own changes, such as new Interim President Dr. Lloyd Roberts, new administrative positions, and new Rush policies for the tribes and clubs. It is essential for everyone to remember that the Lord is our strength in this ever-changing world. Ephesians 6:10 reminds us of the importance of Standing Strong. "Last of all I want to remind you that your strength must come from the Lord's mighty power within you."

Jenny Dixon and Cara Sheeler

Dr. George Pittman Professor of English 1977-2002

This year's Tribesman is dedicated to the epitome of graciousness: Dr. George Pittman, Professor and Chair Emeritus of the English Department. Dr. Pittman is a shining example of the ideals toward which the Mississippi College community strives. A 1959 graduate, he went on to complete his M.A. and Ph.D. degrees at the University of Mississippi. In 1977, he returned to his alma mater as chair of the English Department and since that time has taught thousands of students. His commitment to teaching excellence was formally recognized in 1980, when he was named as the Distinguished Faculty Award recipient. He has led annual student trips to England and other summer trips to China on several occasions. He and his wife Alicia have sponsored Nenamoosha Service Tribe for many years, and he also sponsored several issues of the university's literary magazine, The Arrowhead. Dr. Pittman is a respected Sunday school teacher and deacon at the First Baptist Church of Clinton. Following his retirement at the end of this academic year, he and Alicia will be moving to Texas to spend more time with their children and grandchildren.

We all will miss his quick laughter, his encouragement, and the occasional sight of his long legs in Renaissance tights during the Pittman Shakespeare Festival. Best wishes, Dr. Pittman, and thank you for being a cornerstone of our campus community.

In Memorium

Terry W.
Frazier
Professor of Law
1990-2001

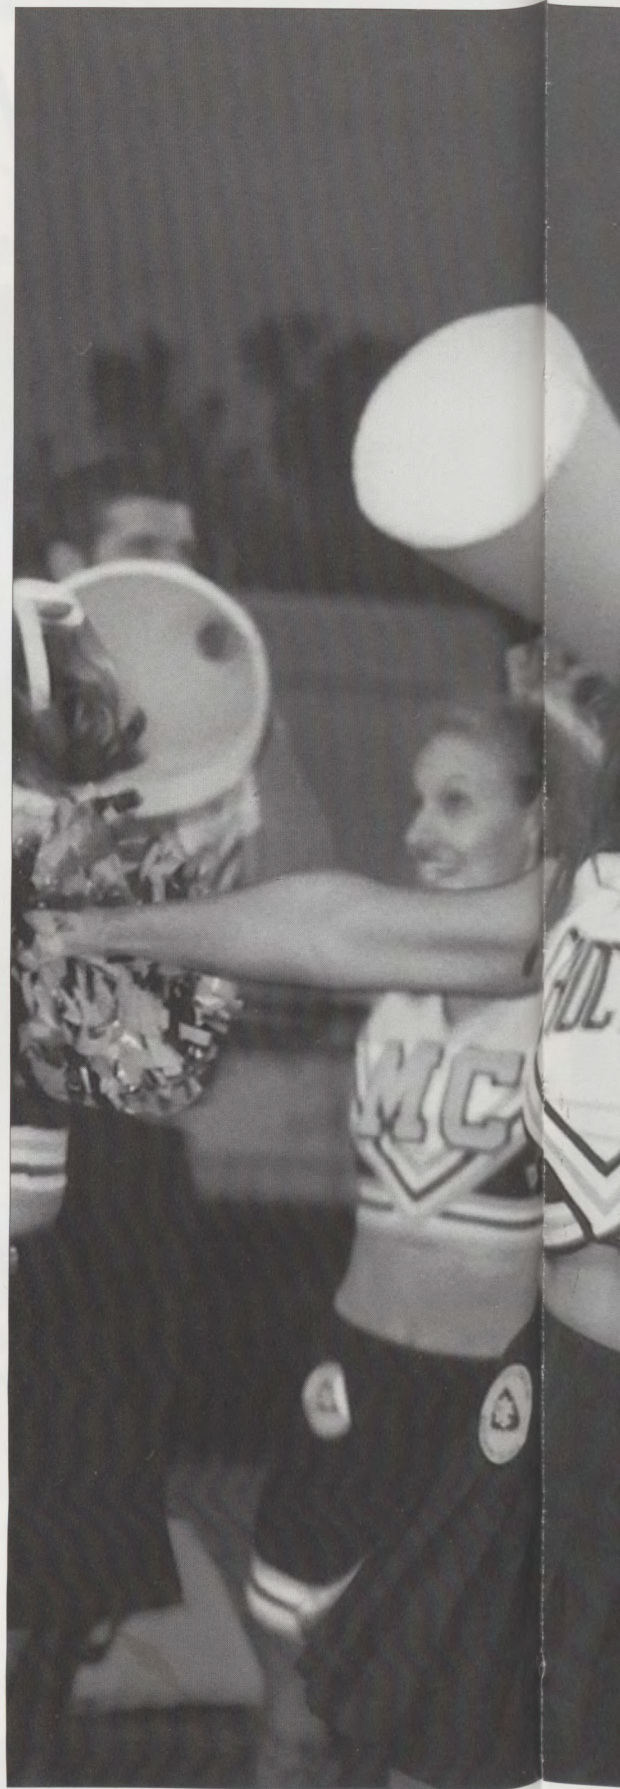

More years ago than I like now to remember I sat in this building and listened to - yes, more than that, was dissected by - men all but one of whom are now dead. What I got from them was not alone the Rule in Shelley's case, or what was one's duty to an invited person - as we then called him - or what law determined whether a contract has been made, or how inadequate was the common law of partnership before the advent of Cory on Accounts, or in what jurisdictions a corporation is "present." True, I did get those so far as I was able to absorb them, but I got much more. I carried away the impress of a band of devoted scholars; patient, considerate, courteous and kindly, whom nothing could daunt and nothing could bribe. The memory of those men has been with me ever since. Again and again they have helped me when the labor seemed heavy, the task seemed trivial, and the confusion seemed indecipherable. From them I learned that it is as craftsman that we get our satisfactions and our pay. In the universe of truth they lived by the sword; they asked no quarter of absolutes and they gave none. Go ye and do likewise.

-Learned Hand, The Bill of Rights 77 (1962).

Spirit Of MC

When one walks on the campus of Mississippi College, he or she is sure to feel a certain spirit in the air. The atmosphere is a big reason why many people choose to attend MC. There is something distinctly unique and special about it. The Spirit of MC is that of . . .

Discipline. Amidst all of the competing activities, it sometimes takes some discipline to be studious. Barry Simpson took advantage of a beautiful fall day to study literature on the Quad.

Pride. Freshmen Claire Delaughter, Wendy McMillan, and Diana McMurtry wanted everyone to know that they had MC spirit at the MC vs. Millsaps game.

Worship. MC is a place of worship and service to God. Leslie Ennis, along with the rest of Adopted, leads the worship at BSU every Tuesday night.

Family. Each year on Family Day, students' families come to enjoy the day with them at MC. Bradley Freeny spent time with his nephew, Seth Barber.

Fellowship. Whenever an important event is happening at MC, it is sure to be accompanied by lunch on the Quad. At Support the Chocs Day Scott Sims, Lisa Zimmerman, Amy Smith, Marshall Polson, CJ Stephenson, and Brian McCollister enjoy spending time together.

Friendship. During those first few weeks as a freshman, one is forming relationships that could last a lifetime. Mindy Crosby and Ashley Fogg dress up as M & M's for KT's Rush Skit.

Fun. MJ Gallop, Sarah Monroe, and Erin Irby kick up their heels at Support the Chocs Day.

Support. Bethany Daniel, Robin Rhaly, and Jami Drane support their team with cheers at the Backyard Brawl.

Student Activities

Students at MC have so many options when deciding how to fill their free time. This page is just a sample of some of the activities they choose. During the fall rush events take up a lot of people's time, yet most still find some leftover for activities like music and studying.

The College Republicans were anxious to show their patriotism after the tragedy of 9-11. They painted signs at the Republican Party Headquarters in Jackson for their "Burma Shave." They recieved honks and waves from patriotic Americans as they held their signs on the side of the street.

ST beaux Chris Teasley, Matt "Spunk" Weston, and Nathan Chapman performed their bagpipe impression in the ST rush skit. As they belted out renditions of fairytale songs like "Somewhere Over the Rainbow" and "Hi Ho," the crowd went wild with laughter.

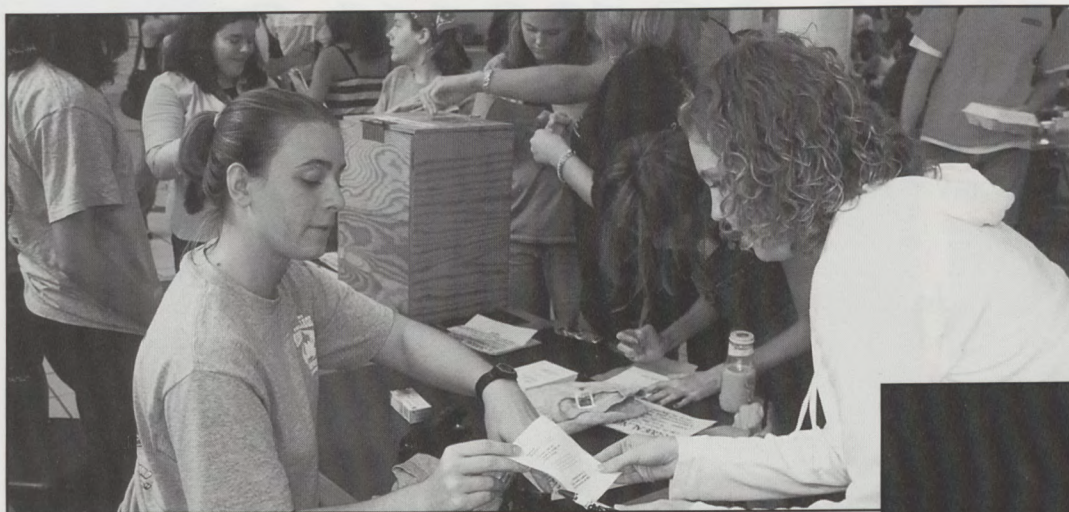

Bubba McHan, Nathan Richardson, and the rest of their band, the Wannabeatles, were a huge hit as they played to a packed crowd of students and adults at Gravity.

Holly Roberts and Stacie Smith helped blow up balloons for the ST squeal night party in Jennings Courtyard.

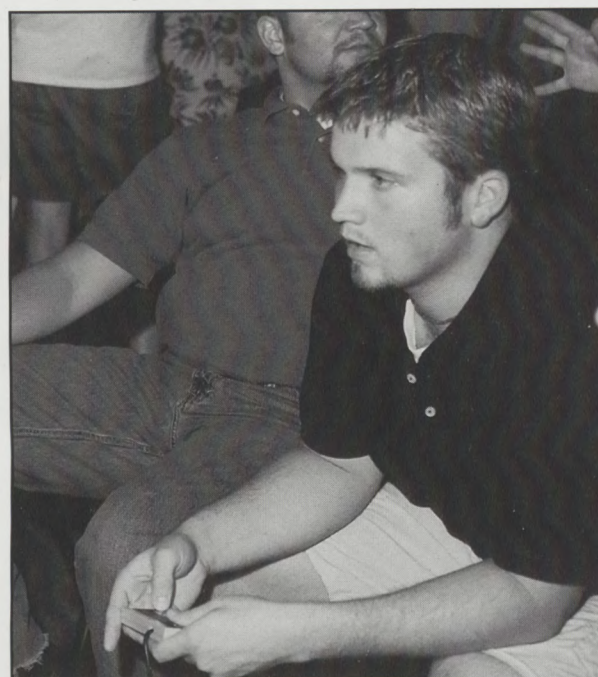

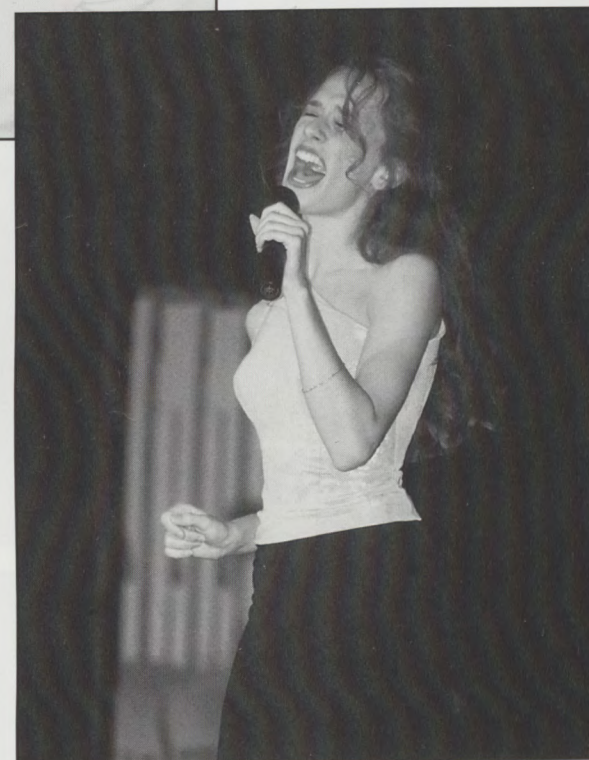

Pref Day, as usual, was a day that came with high anxiety. Sarah Braddock and other members of InterTribal assisted the girls in making this important decision.

Andrea Fyke performed "I Think I'm in Love" in the LT rush skit, "Miss Lagunality."

Jessica Jones and Kay Roberts made use of the peace and quiet of the library to diligently study for their upcoming Cell Biology test.

Steve Mears played Nintendo at the Shawreth rush party. Playing video games seems to be one of the favorite pastimes of guys at MC.

Dressing up for rush skits is always fun. Jackie Weston and Sarah Plummer dressed up as their favorite movie role for the NT rush skit.

Homecoming

Homecoming this year was packed with fun and excitement. The week was kicked off Wednesday by the band Dezeray's Hammer playing in the Piazza. Thursday night the pep rally got everyone's spirits flying. On Friday night, the much anticipated follies were hosted again by Tim Krason and Brian McCollister. Circle K and Shawreth managed to tie for first place followed by Civitan in second and Swanannoa in third. Finally on Saturday, the parade was a celebration to prepare us for our 28 to 21 victory over McMurry.

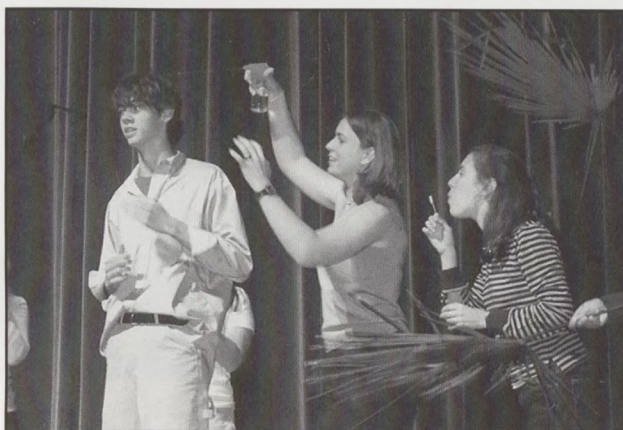

Shawreth chose Dr. Ivan Parke to be its new sponsor this year. Naturally they decided to include him in their Follies skit played by Brent Newberry.

H. Ross Dudley, in order to go along with the 80's theme of the Homecoming dance and to be "Mullet Man" in the Civitan skit, cut his hair in a mullet.

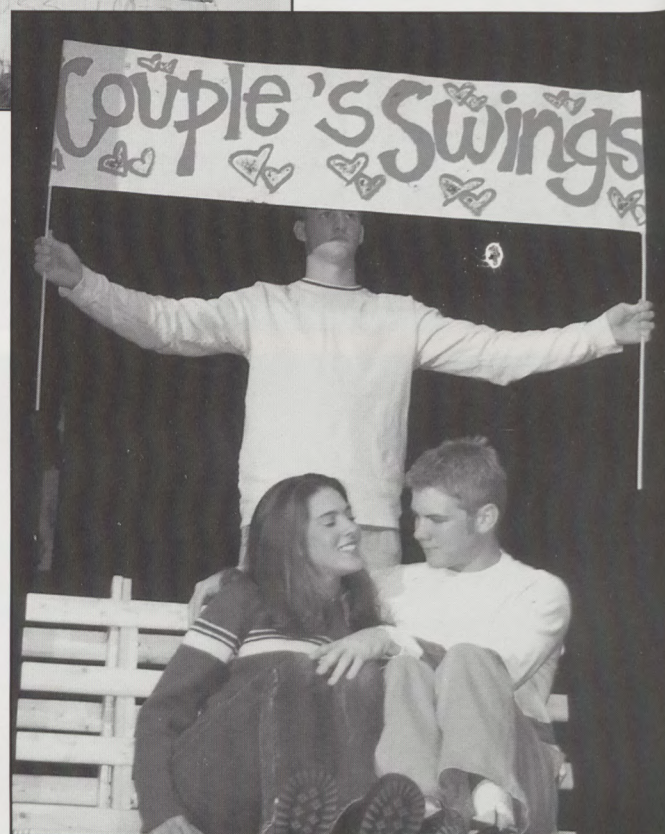

The Civitan boys put on a skit filled with bathroom humor and a dance in towels. In one part of the dance, they threw off their towels and put on Civitan shirts. David Thompson forgot to unbutton his shirt and got it stuck on his head.

The famed "Couple's Swings" that are outside the Hederman-Gunter dorms are the source of many jokes. Suzanne Green and Griffin Lewis sit on one in the NT Follies skit.

Tim Krason does a great impression of this year's SGA president, William Waller.

This year the KT girls displayed their KT pink for the parade.

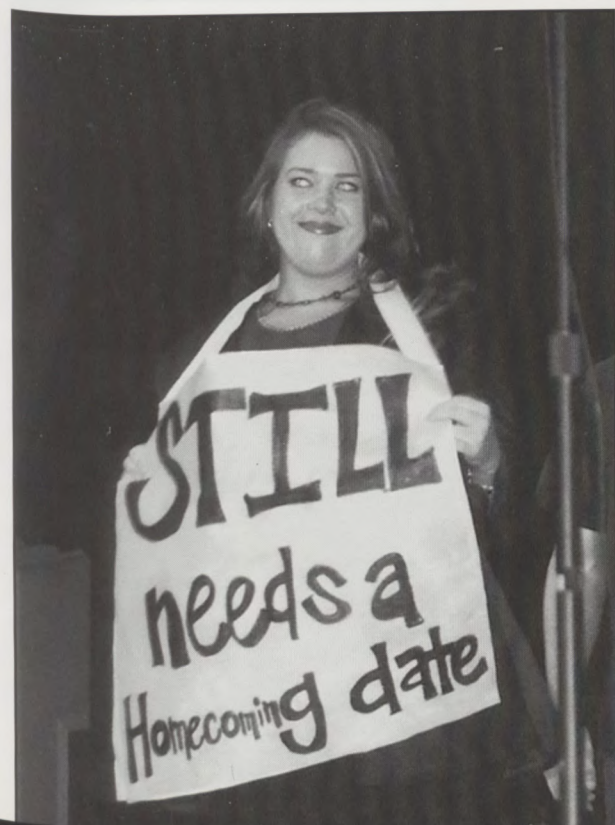

This is a still from a video that was shown to start Follies. Brian McCollister and Tim Krason had supposedly "forgotten" about Follies. When they were reminded by cell phone, they sprinted to Swor to make the show.

Jeana Elizondo and Nathan Chapman broke out some hip retro dancing in the ST skit.

Cory Shields plays the "Ladies Man" in Circle K's winning skit.

Krista Brashear has the guts to say what many girls wish to say. With the uneven girl/guy ratio on MC campus, many girls don't get asked to the Homecoming dance.

The ST girls are caught in the middle of jumping during their dance to "Ice Ice Baby."

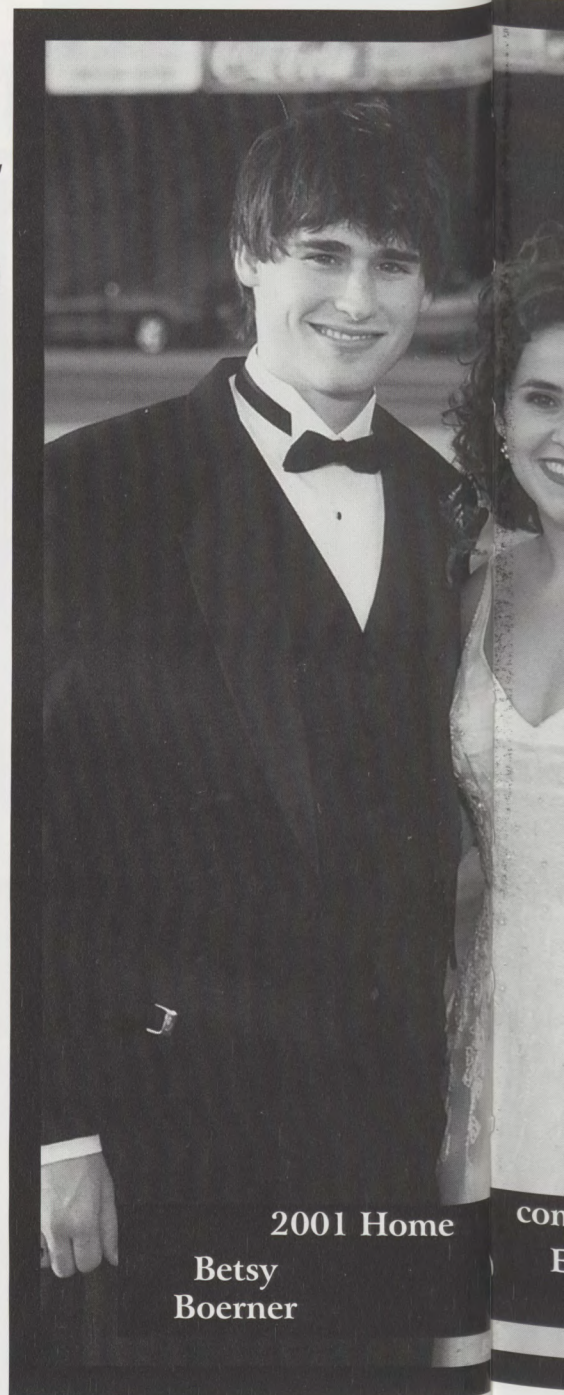

The NT girls, following tradition, rode on a fire truck in the parade.

United We Stand

“In God We Trust”

On September 11, 2001, the world was forever changed when two planes crashed into the World Trade Centers in New York and one into the Pentagon in Washington, DC, killing around 6,000 people. The Tribesman would like to dedicate this page in memory of these events. America has come together in this time of tragedy through love, prayer, and patriotism. President George W. Bush addressed a crowd of political leaders and dignitaries as well as the world at the National Prayer Service held on September 14. Some of his comments are as follows.

“Grief and tragedy and hatred are only for a time, but goodness, remembrance, and love have no end. The Lord of life holds all who die and all who mourn.”

“In this trial we have been reminded, and the world has seen, that our fellow Americans are generous and kind, resourceful and brave. We are freedom’s home and defender. The commitment of our fathers is now the calling of our time.”

“On this national day of prayer and remembrance, we ask almighty God to watch over our nation and grant us patience and resolve in all that is to come. We pray that He will comfort and console those who now walk in sorrow. We thank Him for each life we now must mourn and the promise of a life to come.”

“As we’ve been assured, neither death nor life nor angels nor principalities, nor powers nor things present nor things to come nor height nor depth can separate us from God’s love.”

--President George W. Bush

We Love America

After September 11, 2001, students at MC were ready to support their country in its time of need. A campus wide prayer service was held in Swor to lift up the events. Flags and other symbols of patriotism were displayed, and "I Love America Day" was the biggest it has been in many years (largely thanks to the efforts of Patricia Honea). The campus flag flew at half mast, eyes were glued to TV's, and blood banks were bombarded with eager donors. MC joined the rest of the country in rallying behind America!

Ashley Fogg and James Mullen display their patriotism by standing on the corner of Capital St. with signs. They recieved many honks and waves as motorists affirmed that they too love America.

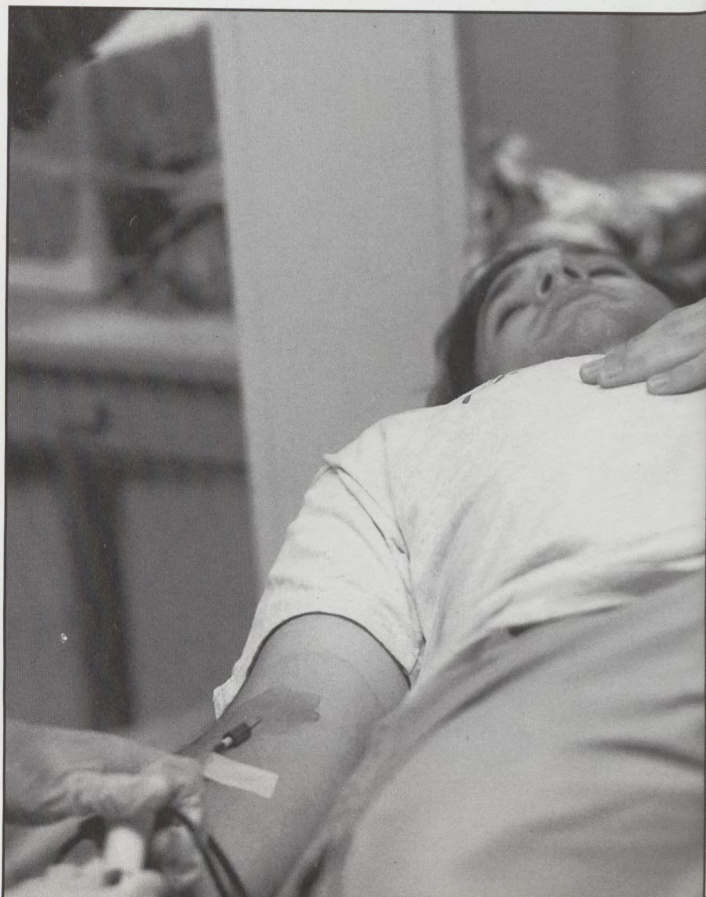

On "I Love America Day" students were excited about being involved in their country's system of democracy. Many students registered to vote.

Kelly Williams, Leslie Mills, and McKenzie Givhan show their support and sympathy for New York City.

After September 11, there was a great need for blood donors. People around the country were so anxious to help, that people had to make appointments in advance to even get in a blood bank. On September 13, First Baptist Clinton held a blood drive. Corey Coleman waited in the long line to donate his blood.

Students at MC joined the rest of the country in making their vehicles patriotic with flags, ribbons, and stickers.

Austin Helms, Karen Ray, and Anna Prevost salute the flag during the singing of the National Anthem at follies. The National Anthem and Pledge of Allegiance have rightfully been put back into the openings of programs and events across campus.

On September 11 and the days following, all eyes were glued to TV screens awaiting the latest developments. Grace Bateman like the rest of the students watches in shock from her dorm room.

Jonathan Janis and Grant Perkins show the Clinton Fire Department how much we appreciate them coming to "I Love America Day."

In honor of the fallen firefighters as well as the thousands of others who died on September 11, flags around the country flew at half mast until September 23.

Flags from the Clarion Ledger Newspaper were taped in hundreds of windows across the campus.

Sandy Waynes helped to pass out 500 flags that were distributed on "I Love America Day." Students put them on their bookbags, in their rooms, and displayed them in many other ways.

Giving to Others

Service and Missions

Many students at Mississippi College hold community service as a high priority. They selflessly give of their time to help others, better their community, and show Christ's love. These priorities are part of what makes the student body at MC so special.

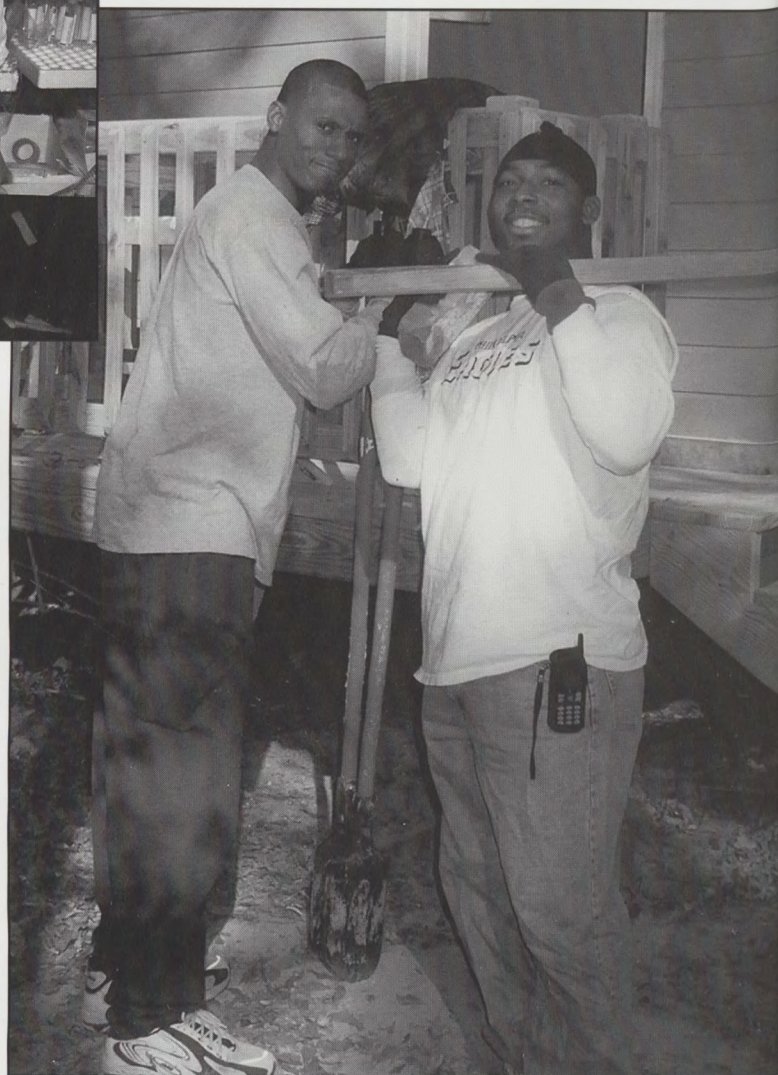

Stacey Bloodworth joined the many other MC students who donated blood in the annual MC blood drive held in Alumni Hall.

Many students participated in the Mississippi Reads program this year. Laurel Seward gives of her time every week to help children learn to read.

David Buys went with the College Republicans to the Community Christian Center to tutor children.

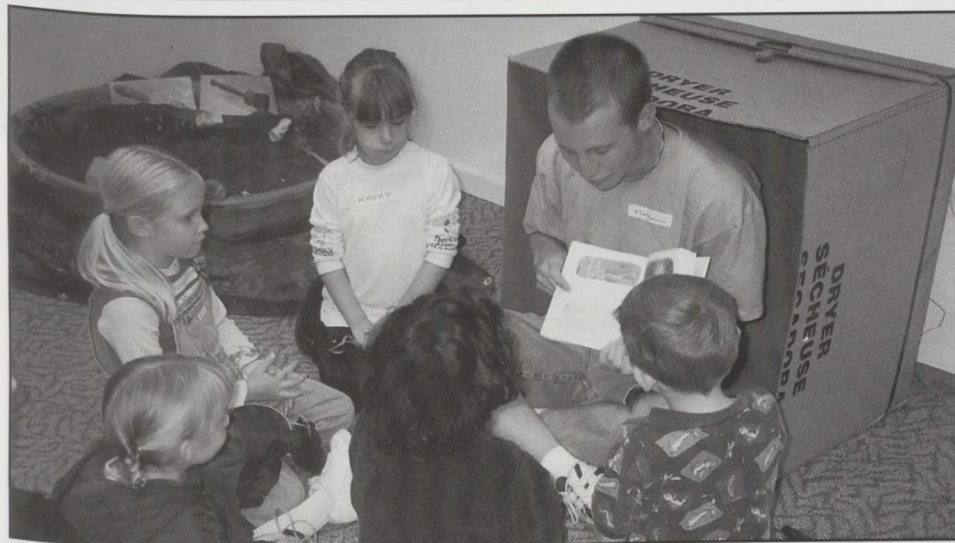

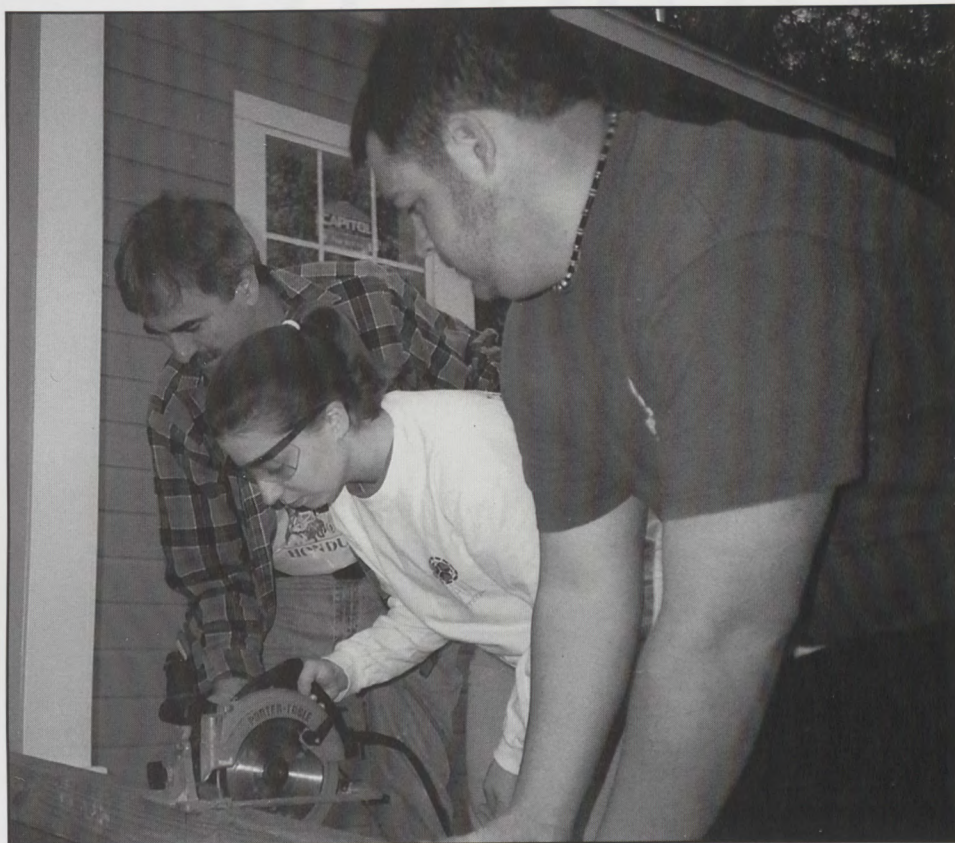

Football players Antonio Keys (Big Play AK #80) and Derek Caples (DC #3) help build a habitat house along with Dr. Darlin's sociology class.

Many students help with Habitat for Humanity. Brad McMahan helps Kristin Gilmer learn to use a saw.

Summer Jones mentors a child every week through the Big Brother Big Sister Organization.

Tim Peabody joined many other MC students who participated in summer missions through the BSU. Tim ministered to children in California.

Student Activities

Students at MC are involved in many activities. Although balancing social life, extra-curricular activities, and academic work can sometimes be a challenge, most students enjoy the many opportunities to be involved.

Students at MC are always excited about concerts. This fall students attended many concerts. Karen Howell and Summer Jones went to Tupelo to see Jake, Eli, Nicole C Mullen, Audio Adrenaline and FFH whom they met backstage after the show.

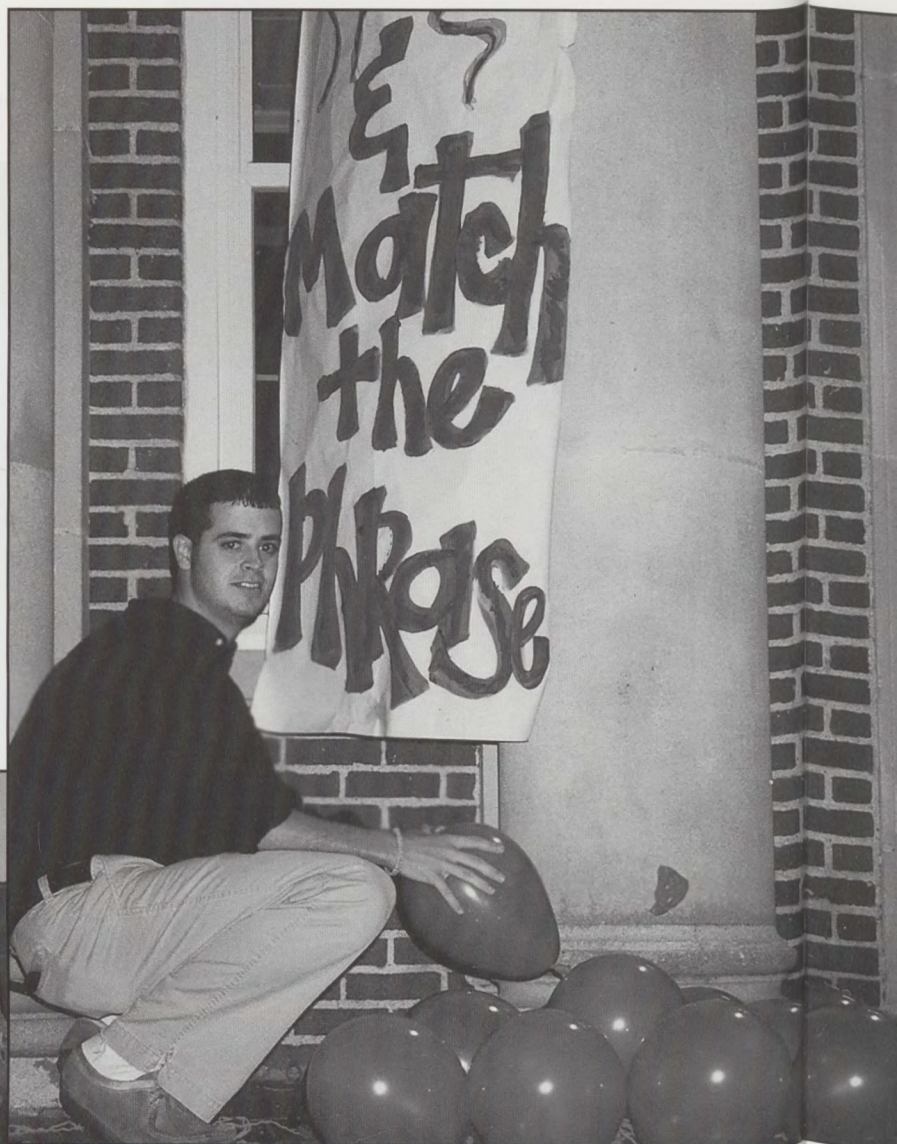

It is an MC tradition to ask your date in a unique and creative way. Craig Kinsley is being asked to NT Formal by Lori Walker.

Hampsteads, the on-campus restaurant, provides students with an alternative to the cafeteria. Ben Cantrell and Kate Boudreaux enjoy food and a chance to hang out.

Music students and other students who play instruments spend many hours in the music rooms in Aven Fine Arts building. Graduate student, Melanie Sprayberry teaches a piano lesson.

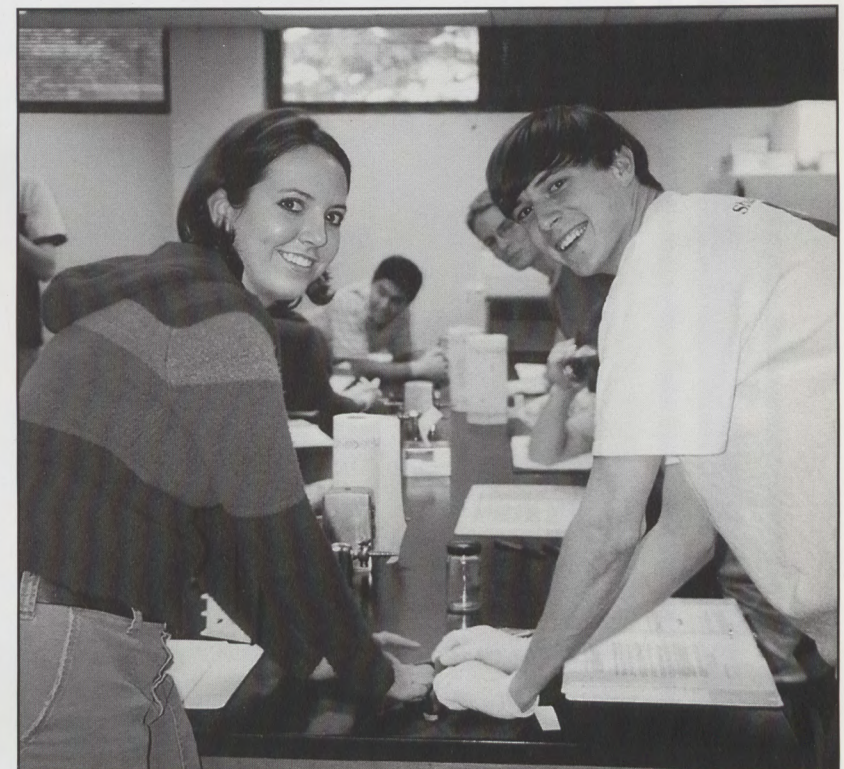

Aaron Bond, Justin Rogers, and Dave Hanes sit back, relax, and enjoy the music of the Wannabeatles who are playing on the roof of Alumni.

Lori Gillis, Brian Smith, and David Hogue follow along in the book of Solomon during the RUF bible study.

Lindsay Fortenberry, a student from the Nursing school, sells cookies and other sweets at a bake sale on "I Love America" day.

James Mullen and Evan Carpenter dressed up for Swanannoa's Tacky party.

Dana Brooks and Cooper Overton work on an experiment in the Freshman biology lab. The many pre-medical students on campus spend several afternoons a week in labs.

Faculty and Staff Candid

Dr. Lloyd Roberts

Dear Students and MC Family,

It is with sincerity and pride that I am able to say that "Mississippi College is an institution where students are special and faculty and staff willingly give much beyond expectations."

Mississippi College, founded in 1826, is the oldest institution of higher learning in the state of Mississippi and the largest private college in the state. Since its founding, Mississippi College has been at the frontier of American higher education through its emphasis on superb academics, a strong spiritual environment, and the needs of students.

As a Christian institution, Mississippi College values the integration of faith and learning throughout the educational process, and provides a quality Christian education for its student population.

During this year of 2001-2002, I have been privileged to experience, personally, the joy of working with our exemplary students involved in campus life. I have been encouraged by the standards of excellence and commitment to service that I have observed in many of our students on this campus.

I am aware that the future and reputation of our University depends much on the quality and character of the students who leave our University as they embark upon their lives and place their stamp on our society.

I am confident that the students I have observed will continue the rich tradition of Christian character and high ideals that exemplify the MC student.

God has given us the capacity to learn. And from that special gift comes a divine responsibility to commit to academic excellence. At MC our mission is to passionately pursue that excellence. But our passion isn't limited to just student scholastic excellence; it also extends to our Christian values, our community and our future.

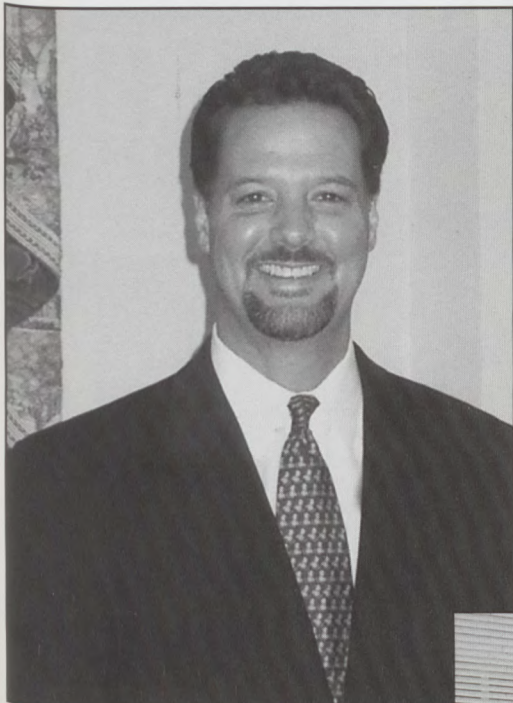

Thank you, students, faculty and staff for your contributions to these pursuits of excellence. I want you to know that I appreciate you, and the world beyond Mississippi College will be better because of your influence.

2001 Choctaw Football

This season, the Choctaw offense is led by junior quarterback Payton Perrett who is the holder of the Choctaw career mark for touchdown passes and was first team All-ASC last year. Also leading the offense is senior wide receiver Clint Harrison who is an All-ASC candidate this year. Leading the defense is junior linebacker Bryan Madden who received the ASC Defensive Player-of-the-Week this season. Other players leading the defense this season are senior cornerback Jonathan McMillan who acquired an All-ASC honorable mention last year and senior cornerback DeNarius Thomas who holds fifth place on the all time kickoff return yardage list.

Jason McHugh gets ready to tackle the Millsaps's defense.

Derrick Caples glides past Hardin Simmons's defense.
